

10 Billion Beats

a global intention event

7:00 PM, Sept. 17th. & 18th, 2010

10 Billion Beats is a global event that uses drumming to send a wave of positive intention around the world.

Starting in Central Daylight Time on 9/17/2010, the event will follow the sunset westward. Drums will sound for one hour at 7:00 PM in each time zone as the intention circles the Earth and concludes 24 hours later on 9/18. Participation is free for everyone crazy enough to change the world and everyone else for whom they want to change it.

This is a grass-roots idea not a commercial event. It works because people like you get excited, participate, and tell others about it. 200,000 people gathered around the globe in 2009 for this single purpose.

One Intention. One Planet.

Peace TO Earth
Goodwill ON Humankind

We invite you to stand with the world this year in a creative cadence of unity.
